We know how time consuming it is to weed through your inboxes every day, so we want to make it easier for you to find the right choices for your professional development program.

We send e-mails regarding Live Education Event opportunities only on every other Tuesday. We send e-mails regarding Online Instructor Led Courses the first Thursday of every month, and Web Seminars only on the third Thursday of every month. Occasionally, you will still receive e-mails on special events that fall outside of this schedule. And, as always, you can log on to www.arkbankers.org for a complete list of education events.

We also know that you have many choices when it comes to educational providers, but we encourage you to think "ABA First" when considering how to best train and educate your bank employees in 2011 and beyond. Your Association has literally hundreds of educational offerings each year to serve your needs. Because we know how valuable your time is, we have changed our approach in how to get this information to you.
