Collecting debt in foreclosures, replevins/repossessions, and bankruptcies (consumer and commercial) may appear daunting. With sufficient advice, you can understand the applicable laws and their application to the debt you are attempting to collect.

This virtual seminar will provide basic advice and provide you with fact patterns that repeat themselves in these types of cases. After this session, you will be able to make wiser decisions about spending your bank's money on collecting debts, in and out of bankruptcy.
